BRUNO REIDAL : CONFESSION OF A MURDERER
PRESS BREAKS – CANNES 2021

QUOTES

Rigorously composed and executed, Bruno Reidal, Confession Of A Murderer confirms the promise of Le Port's award-winning shorts and showcases an extraordinary central performance from newcomer Dimitri Dore. (...) Bruno Reidal is a remarkably assured, precisely calibrated feature that achieves a fully-realised depiction of an individual and a period. Every element contributes to a unified, convincing whole. (...)The casting throughout is excellent (...)

Allen Hunter, SCREEN DAILY

It is rare for a debut feature to feel so assured and to have so few missteps, especially with a subject as tricky as this one, and yet the film is riveting from the very first frame.

Bryan Corser, ICS

A spectacular entry into the world of feature films. (...) A cross between Bresson and Haneke, BRUNO REIDAL marks the debut of an exceptional filmmaker, who knows how to give a tangible and credible existence to an ancient social world, filming with a sharp perception of expressive power and blurring the austerity of the story by perfectly pacing a narrative that intermingles flashbacks, voice-overs and interrogations (...) Vincent Le Port delivers such a precise cinematographic analysis that admiration easily prevails over the ambient malaise. A director to be followed very closely.

Fabien Lemercier, CINEUROPA
