12-year-old Martha Jane and her family are headed West in large covered wagon train in search of a better life. After Martha Jane's father is hurt in a serious accident, she takes charge of her siblings and learns to drive the family wagon. She has never felt so free. Utterly practical and bold, Martha Jane dresses as a boy and becomes increasingly troublesome for the community due to her outspoken braveness. When the leader of the wagon wrongly accuses her of theft, she runs away to find proof of her innocence...

In the Wild, she discovers herself and a world which shapes her and confirms her unique personality... revealing the mythical Calamity Jane.

An activist documentary executive produced by Marion Cotillard.

In every corner of the planet, young people are raising their voices and taking action on climate change, inequality, migration, agriculture, education, gun control and even corruption. 18 years-old Indonesian Melati Wijsen leads this quest to join forces with activists of this new generation. She started lobbying her local government to ban the sale and distribution of plastic bags in her island, Bali. She is now a leading figure of a new power, of youth empowerment. And it is rising. But changes remain slow and Melati could not wait any longer. She needs to meet her tribe, her peers, and join forces. In her search to team up with other young leaders, Melati will cross path with fellow young activist based everywhere in the world.

Welcome to an amazing positive reality, where kids change lives, questioning and cracking our resistance, calling us to wake up and confront the challenges and potential changes that are surely BIGGER THAN US!

Paris, today.

France de Meurs is a star journalist running between a television set, a distant war and the hustle and bustle of her busy family life.

Her frantic high-profile world is suddenly turned upside down after a traffic accident in which she injures a pedestrian. This unexpected irruption of reality calls everything into question.

As France attempts to slow down and retreat into a simple anonymous life, her fame continues to pursue her until a mystified love affair seems to put an end to her quest.

A small village looted in darkness, a family forced to flee.

The two oldest children, Kÿona and Adriel are quickly separated from their parents facing the road of exile alone. They embark on a heroic journey which takes them from childhood to adolescence in search of shelter, peace and the hope of finding refuge and their family. Crossing a continent torn apart by war and migrant persecution, these courageous siblings survive incredible challenges, before reaching a new world, free at last.

A woman with long, wavy brown hair is shown in profile, looking down and singing into a vintage-style microphone. She is wearing a dark, sleeveless dress covered in shimmering sequins. The scene is dramatically lit with vertical bands of red and blue light in the background, creating a moody, stage-like atmosphere. The text "DEAD & BEAUTIFUL" is overlaid in the center in a white, serif font.

An Asian megalopolis, today.

After a wild night, a group of young wealthy friends wake up from their drunken stupor with a freakish discovery: each of them has grown a pair of fangs – vampire teeth.

Bewildered at first, the group realizes they feel stronger and more attractive than ever before. As they strain to make sense of their new situation, they lose themselves in a twisted game of taking their new vampire skills to the streets. In this new kind of nightlife, with the limits of life, love and death greatly blurred, it dawns on the group that they can no longer trust each other. Nobody can be sure of what this vampire business is all about - or, for that matter, if any of this is even real.

French Guyana, not so long ago.

Eliott, a young and naïve anthropology researcher, goes on an expedition to study the Otopis, a mysterious tribe from the Amazon rainforest. It is also an opportunity for him to get away from the grip of his possessive mother, Chantal de Bellabre; an ethnologist hated by the profession for her biased and cold-hearted practices.

Arriving in the forest Elliot realizes the Otopis are not the good savages he had imagined. Alcoholic, violent, crooked: they will turn his expedition into a real hell in the jungle. Fortunately, Chantal, consumed by remorse and worried about her son, decides to abandon her own expedition and goes looking for him in the jungle, with the help of the not so helpful Lieutenant-Commander Raspailles and his men.

French Atlantic coast. Near Future. Spring.
The sea has become infested with jellyfish since fish can no longer reproduce.

Daniel Luxey, a biologist charged with unravelling this mystery, is obsessed with becoming a father. Statistically he has only 1 chance in 6,233.33 of meeting a woman likely to share his dream.

Lucie, a young woman with a sharp sense of humour, relieves her constant melancholy with a passion for the subtle language of piranhas.

When Daniel fixes a date with Lucie through a dating app, he comes across a strange fish caught in a net – a fish named Nietzsche – and circumstances finally become favorable for him to find what he has been truly lacking: love.

Days of Cannibalism is a contemporary documentary Western which takes place against the backdrop of a newly emerging China-Africa relationship. The film is set in a remote rural region in Southern Africa, a frontier space in which the laws of society are in a state of flux. The arrival of new settlers – economic migrants from China – has upset the balance of power. Old laws and old gods are being called into question.

The unbridled forces of capitalism are felt deep in these rural communities as a new order begins to evolve. Subtle moments and small gestures reveal the effect of migration, personal sacrifice, solitude, alienation and the experience of otherness. A latent violence threatens to erupt. As old structures begin to disintegrate one rule asserts itself above all others: eat or be eaten.

Based on the acclaimed novel “And the Birds Rained Down” by Jocelyne Saucier

Quebec, Canada. Today.
Three elderly hermits live deep in the woods, cut off from the rest of the world. When wildfires threaten the region, their quiet life is about to be shaken by the arrival of two women... A luminous octogenarian, unjustly institutionalized her whole life, and a young photographer charged with interviewing survivors of the region’s deadliest forest fire.

After the death of the eldest hermit, the two women make an astonishing discovery: hundreds of paintings echoing his tragic experience related to the devastating fire.
A story of intertwined destinies, where love can happen at any age.

“This eco-friendly, elegantly delivered tale (...) is engaging, thought-provoking and ultimately moving, with potential mainstream appeal.”
